Dear Team,

With a strong background in marketing analytics and data-driven decision-making, I bring a proven ability to transform complex data into actionable insights that drive business growth and optimize marketing strategies. I am a proactive, dynamic, and empathetic professional who values responsibility, curiosity, and collaboration—adding energy, adaptability, and a self-learning mindset to any team.

In my current role as Marketing Data Analyst at L.L.Bean, I focus on eCommerce website and KPI analytics, assess site enhancements through A/B testing, and deliver weekly business reviews for leadership. I have designed and implemented dashboards that democratize data across teams, enabling informed strategic planning. My expertise in SQL, BigQuery, Tableau, and advanced Excel has allowed me to forecast trends and provide predictive analytics that support budgeting and marketing investments.

Previously, as an Associate Marketing Data Analyst, I focused on insights discovery and optimization of marketing investments. I managed dashboards, monitored SEO performance, and conducted A/B testing to improve website functionality and campaign results. These experiences strengthened my ability to communicate findings effectively and collaborate cross-functionally to achieve measurable outcomes.

Beyond technical proficiency, I pride myself on strong analytical thinking, attention to detail, and proactive engagement. I am passionate about leveraging data to tell compelling stories that influence strategic decisions and enhance customer experiences.

I would welcome the opportunity to bring my skills and enthusiasm, contributing to your marketing analytics initiatives and driving impactful results. Thank you for considering my application. I look forward to the possibility of discussing how my experience aligns with your team's goals.

Sincerely,

Maria Gabriela Calleja
